4. SRSS Public Advocacy Media and Communication Support Services	a) EOI Brief and rationale for two stage approach - Cr Matthew Kirwan outlined the brief's objectives as follows. Primary objectives: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. To influence the Federal Government to reverse the cuts, or at least delay or reduce the negative impacts of their implementation (for example, by less harsh implementation of the work ready assessment.) 2. To seek resources for individual people seeking asylum and support services from the State Government. Secondary objectives: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 3. To raise awareness of Council activity and initiative in this space, but only in such a way that it does not affect achievement of the primary objectives. Cr Matthew Kirwan explained the process taken to arrive at the $5,000 suggested contribution amount from each member Council. Modelling of the proposal and budget of $40,000 was based on the two month state-wide City of Monash's 2014 Enough Pokies campaign. Stage 1 of the SRSS campaign will run late October to early December after which the nature and worth of having a Stage 2 campaign would be assessed. Cr Kirwan passed on thanks to Moreland Deputy Mayor Natalie Abboud for her advice on this process.	Info only.
