

Robinson & Mason Street Re-alignment Project

Project Bulletin #3

April 2023

Council is preparing to undertake civil construction work at the southern portion of Robinson Street (and Mason Street) to improve safety and traffic flow. Construction will start in mid May 2023. Temporary road closures and detours will be in place.

Background

The realignment of Robinson and Mason Streets is part of a longer-term vision for Revitalising Central Dandenong to improve the length of Robinson Street from Princes Highway to Walker Street.

Robinson Street is a major north south link on the edge of central Dandenong, providing access to the office and retail functions west of Lonsdale Street. Robinson Street is cut off at Walker Street, with vehicular and pedestrian traffic diverted onto Mason Street, near Hutton Street. The realignment will improve connectivity, reduce congestion and support traffic circulation.

Overview of Improvements

The realigned street will:

- create a safer street environment to address recorded traffic accidents,
- maintain current vehicle access to local businesses,
- deliver new raised platforms to enhance pedestrian safety,
- provide a new bus stop repositioned to align with the realigned roadway,
- create additional open space with grass as a holding treatment for future landscape and tree planting.

When will the works occur?

On site construction will start in mid May 2023 and continue for 12 weeks.

How will I be affected?

Temporary road closures and vehicle detours will be in place (details to be provided early May)

Footpaths will remain open and function as normal

The bus stop located between Bob's Place (Launch Housing) and RCT Lawyers will be temporarily relocated

Impacted businesses will be notified directly and will receive further updates.
